Northwest Stoves Celebrating 25 Years...Our History (Part 4)

by Dawne Schildt

I received a most interesting submission from two people who know Wayne and the history of Northwest Stoves best: Wayne's parents, Bob and Anne Rourke.

While Wayne was still located in Powell River, he had a utility trailer on which he mounted a hot tub and a Fisher Papa Bear stove. Copper coils in the firebox heated the circulating water fed to the hot tub. This contraption could be hauled from location to location for demos and shows. Bob and Anne called this Wayne's "dog and pony show".

One hot summer day the "dog and pony show" was set up on Powell River's main street in front of the Fisher Stove's plant. A Federal Election was on that day, with a busy polling station located right next door. Wayne and Tony Crane were invited to dinner at the Rourke's home, so the hot tub was left unattended. During dinner the phone rang. It was the local RCMP calling, looking for Mr. Wayne Rourke. Apparently, a lady was skinny-dipping in the hot tub. Needless to say, Wayne made tracks back to the "dog and pony show" and drained the tub. It was pretty good advertising, while it lasted.

I would like to thank Mr. and Mrs. Rourke for this story, as it is one of the best we have heard so far. A reminder to the rest of you "old timers", that we still have a few chapters left in this series, so anything that you may want to submit, would be appreciated...

In 1984 the company computerized with a program called ACCPAC, which is still the program we use today.

1984 was also the year that Northwest Stoves took on the Kent Wood Stove line from New Zealand. Our distribution area for this product carried all the way to Winnipeg, and Wayne recalls some very interesting road trips across the prairies in his Saab 900. In 1988 the company probably had its best year with the product, and sold 919 Kent stoves.

The first gas fireplace Northwest Stoves carried was the Wait Elegance, which was marketed by Wait in Ontario, and manufactured by Glow Worm in England. This unit was the predecessor of the Homeglow and the Opus/Opulence. The year was 1986.

Okanagan Theft ALERT!

by Wayne Rourke

Recently, Reid Harvey and I visited Cheryl at Okanagan Home Centre in Kelowna. Cheryl had an interesting story about theft that she wanted to pass along.

About September the 27th, a fellow called ordering a pellet stove and referred to a contractor that Cheryl regularly deals with. This individual also talked about someone that they both knew in the contractor's firm. He was in a hurry, and needed a pellet stove as soon as possible for his homeowner. He gave Cheryl a VISA number, which Cheryl then got authorization on. He called a courier that Okanagan Home Centre has used before, and the stove was shipped. The next business day, he called back saying that this stove had the wrong trim on it and he ordered another one. It was shipped in the same manner.

Next, Cheryl received a phone call from an individual in Oregon that had been traveling in the Kelowna area a few weeks earlier. He was reviewing his VISA account and realized someone must have picked up his number in a restaurant, or somewhere else, and in fact, he had not purchased the two pellet stoves. Cheryl then contacted the RCMP, but to date, there has not been a resolution.

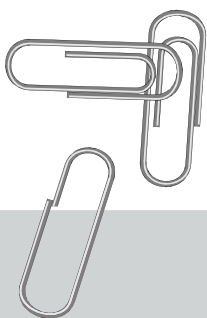

The models are:

Enviro, painted door, pedestal - EF2FSPD
Serial No. : 37257

Enviro, gold door, pedestal - EF2FSGD
Serial No. : 39978

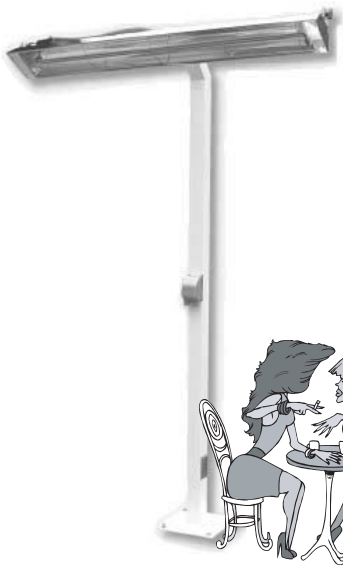

If you hear of, or get contacted by, anyone looking for installation and/or the venting for these units please give Cheryl a call at 250-861-5239.

Please watch for this and similar scams, it can happen to any of us

Patio Heaters in Stock

We have plenty of Sunglo and Sunpak patio heaters available right now. Call for complete details and models.

New Product at Northwest Stoves: Electric Radiant Patio Heaters by Infratech. A price list and brochure has already been sent. If you have not received it, or if you need more copies, please call Dave at our office.

We are excited about these units, and feel they will compliment our Sunglo and Sunpak units. We have all run into locations where it is difficult to bring a gas line to the patio, but where electric power is available, these units fit the bill. If overhead clearance is a problem, the Infratech electric heaters have no exhaust, and can be mounted with minimal clearance requirements. Call us for more details.

Welcome Dave!

Dave Rosvold has been employed at Northwest Stoves for a few months now. Many of you have talked to him on the phone, and some of you have met him in person. We thought it would be a good idea if you found out more about our "newbie", as Dawne calls him.

Dave was born a scant 28 years ago, in the Kamloops area, the son of a teacher. He grew up listening to country music and playing rugby and soccer –but we didn't hold that against him, when we were considering him for employment.

He left Kamloops in 1996 and has lived in the Lower Mainland ever since. Dave worked mainly as a safety officer for a large construction company, and in the Port of Vancouver.

Dave has been taking accounting courses, working towards his designation. We keep him hopping at work and with the night courses, Dave is a busy guy.

Dave is married to a lovely lady, Shawna, and they look forward to their weekend road trips to visit their families: They travel up the Coquihalla and over the connector to Westbank for one night; then north on Highway 97 to Kamloops for another night, then home to New Westminster.

We are very happy to have the "newbie" working with us and Dave encourages anyone who has questions about the catalogue, payables, brochures, or rugby, to give him a call.
