Coming Soon from Caframo...

Each year, when we take in the HPBA trade show, we get excited about new models and new ideas in the industry—both by the manufacturers we deal with regularly and those we do not. This year, we came across a product made by Caframo that we believe is not only truly unique and ingenious, but also quite practical in a variety of instances.

Using only the heat generated from a tea light, this new product—called Joi, uses patented thermoelectric technology to create enough light to illuminate an entire outdoor eating table without the need for batteries, cords, or solar sources. The light produced from just one tea light using the Joi, is equivalent to using 20 tea lights or 10 LED lights.

The Joi combines practicality with a subtle beauty. It also is versatile as you have the ability to either raise or lower the “cap” to suit your needs. For example, if you prefer the ambience of a quiet dinner surrounding, the cap provides the perfect light in the lowered position (see above right photo). But if you would rather extend the light a little higher (for example—cooking on the barbecue), then the Joi can help you there too.

Expected to be ready by late spring/early summer the Joi is expected to run at a list of around $79.00, although at Hot

Times press time, that figure had not been confirmed.

To view a demo of the Joi and to learn more about its amazingly simple technology, visit www.thermologi.com.

Jotul's F50 Top Loading Rangeley

Convenient Loading

The Jøtul F 50 TL (Top Load) Rangeley offers the convenience of top loading in a non catalytic clean burning stove. The patent protected top loading technology will allow for durable and easy operation with minimal moving parts. Marrying both cast iron and steel, the Jøtul F 50 TL Rangeley will be offered with a choice of either steel or cast iron sides. Additional options also include a convection blower, screen for open door fire viewing, and outside air kit. Also because of the nature of the top load operation the stove will also come with 2 long stove gloves.

The F50 TL's (with cast iron convection sides) are now in stock at Northwest Stoves now. The suggested list price is just $2599. The item code is AJ-351305. The steel convection side has a sku of AJ-351306 and is non-stocking at a list of $2399.00. The blower, outside air kit and screen are all available for your order. Contact your sales rep for more info.

ICC Direct Vent Kits

Horizontal Termination
ICC have recently produced a horizontal termination kit (as seen above) for their Excel Direct Vent pipe. Included in the kit is a horizontal termination, black 90o elbow, wall thimble, trim plate, 24" adjustable black pipe & a 9" black pipe. Unlike some kits available from other manufacturers, the Excel Direct Horizontal Kits will cost you less money than if you were to purchase each component separately! Some of the new features of Excel Direct Vent include:

- a Stop Bead on each length. This allows you to see whether or not the lengths are assembled straight. The bead also provides rigidity and looks great.

- Slip Lengths are now available through a new design. Each slip length must be attached to a fixed length when needed. These slips are available in either 12" or 24" lengths.
- New Co-linear Termination Adapter adapts direct vent from co-linear to coaxial and includes the flashing as its base. All you need is the flexible liner and the cap to complete it.

Installers love Excel Direct Vent because it's so easy to install, yet it's also is the most leak-free system available. It has a smooth and clean appearance which resembles stove pipe.

The crimped end is an easy way to tell if it's a slip section

Excel Direct has a laser welded inner flue made of stainless steel which is very resistant to corrosion and will hold up under duress better than aluminum. Because of Excel Direct's Push Together assembly, there are no unsightly tabs or markings on the exterior. As a result, the system is smooth by design and very aesthetically pleasing.

RH Peterson's Contemporary Alternative

New G21 Glass Burner
Now available from R.H. Peterson, a beautiful new contemporary option. With its elevated, tapered platform, the G21 is mirrored back and front. The burner is constructed entirely of stainless steel and the valve is completely hidden from view, yet very accessible. The G21 burns very clean using either fyre-glass or fyre-gems placed directly on the ports.

The G21 comes with a manual or remote ready valve in 18", 24" & 30" sizes and can be burned in either Natural Gas or Propane. While many more colours are available, we will be stocking Deep Amber, Black Granite and Koi Fyre Gems for now. Contact your sales rep for details on this amazing new burner.
